WILD SCENES IN HOUSE

Pandemonium Breaks Loose In Georgia Legislature.

POLICE RESERVES CALLED

Prohibition Question and Filibustering Tactics Precipitate Scenes Never Before Witnessed in Georgia House of Representatives.

Atlanta, July 25.—Pandemonium broke loose in the galleries and on the floor of the house of representatives in the capitol Wednesday afternoon, which necessitated the police reserves being called out to clear the galleries, following the impassioned address of Mr Wright, and precipitated a fight on the floor of the house between Mr. Hall and Mr. Wright.

Never in the history of the general assembly of Georgia has there been witnessed such scenes as were precipitated following the speech of Mr. Wright.

Women hissed, men yelled and cursed, the galleries called to the speaker to come into the gallery and he would be thrown over the banisters.

Stalwart members of the house rushed up to the speaker and begged to be deputized to go into the gallery, swearing that they would return with an offender.

Mr. Hines, of Baldwin, during the babel shouted across the floor of the house to Mr. Wright. "Sir, you are responsible for this." To which Mr. Wright replied, "Yes, I am, and in the name of God Almighty you shall hear from it, too."

The gallery was a seething, smoldering mass all day. The iron hand of the speaker had checked all attempts at applause, and the occupants warned several times that at the first outburst the galleries would be cleared and kept cleared.

The scenes which preceded the remarkable demonstration in the galleries was one which never will be forgotten in the annals of Georgia legislative history.

Wright's Impassioned Speech.

It was at the close of the roll call during which a great deal of levity had been indulged in by the filibusters that Mr. Wright made his first explanatory speech.

He said: "I feel deeply the humility of this day, as must every member of this house. Is it possible that the speaker is as helpless as a child? Is it possible that we must sit here with our hands tied so that we cannot do a thing, even though we are in the majority? I want to appeal to you 135 men who are with me in this fight, let us not lend our sympathy to this movement, not even in merriment, men; let us do our duty, and stand like men." Then Mr. Wright in an impassioned appeal said: "I, for one, say here tonight that it is with a feeling of intense and shameless humiliation that I must submit to such proceedings. This is all that I care to say."

The police reserves, which arrived shortly after being called out, quickly emptied the capitol of all visitors, but long into the night calls of "Wright" and "Hall were heard all over the city.

Goes Over to Tuesday.

By agreeing to a proposal of Mr. Candler, of DeKalb, representing the prohibitionists, to make the prohibition bill a special order, the filibuster against the bill ended Thursday, and a final vote on the measure may be expected by 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Candler's proposal, made a little while after the house met at 9 o'clock, provided that the bill be made a special order for Friday, the 26th, but the opponents of the bill, after a conference, at which some of the prohibition members were present, agreed to accept the proposal with the exception that the special order should be on next Tuesday, instead of Friday.

Crushed by Train.

Charlotte, N. C., July 26.—Two negroes, asleep on a trestle near Barbers Junction, N. C., were killed

[illegible] Wednesday [illegible] for about five hours, but the cloudy condition of the sky in this locality prevented local astronomers from viewing the event with any satisfaction.

The eclipse proper began at 9:34 p. m. and lasted until 11:41 p. m. The moon, however, entered the penumbra of light shadow, at 7:59 p. m. and left the light shadow at 12:16 a. m.

Professor N. R. Moulton, of the university of Chicago, and a number of assistants, made observations at the Yerkes observatory at Lake Geneva, Wis.

New York, July 26.—New Yorkers had an excellent view of the partial eclipse of the moon, which took place Wednesday night. The moon entered the shadow at 10:05 and emerged at 12:45 a. m. The eclipse was purely an American one, and was visible only in the United States. It was observed from New York to San Francisco.

PARTIAL MOON ECLIPSE.

Observations Were Made at the University of Chicago.

ALABAMA LEGISLATURE.

Early Closing Bill Passed—No General Prohibition Bill.

Montgomery, Ala., July 26.—Governor Comer signed the anti-shipping bill, which prevents shipments of liquors into prohibition territory, and the house has passed the early closing bill.

[illegible] it [illegible] is asked by the prohibitionists, and no general prohibition bill will be passed.

A memorial was referred in the house to elect the United States senators by direct vote, and in the senate to congress to repeal the bankruptcy laws. The house made ten hours a day in factories, and the senate passed the bill already passed by the house to tax sleeping car companies $3,000.

The early closing bill will shut up saloons in towns of 10,000 at 7 p. m., in towns ten to fifteen thousand at 8 o'clock and others at 9 o'clock.

Montgomery, Birmingham and Mobile will close at 9 o'clock.

REMARKABLE SUICIDE.

Poured Gallon of Oil on Her Head and Set It on Fire.

Little Rock, Ark., July 26.—Angered because her husband refused to praise her for saving money on purchases for their store and because of heavy sales during the morning, Mrs. Anna Lowe, poured a gallon of oil on her head, told her little daughter to watch and see the show, and then set fire to the oil.

Mrs. Lowe's body was burned to a crisp in sight of her daughter and relatives who were attracted by the little child's screams.

Lowe is a laborer, and his wife conducted a store while he was away at work.

Prosperous Times in Columbia.

Bogota, Colombia, July 26.—The national holiday was celebrated here with the opening of a great industrial exposition which demonstrates the richness of the country. The exposition shows that Colombia raises cotton of long fiber. With much land especially adpated to the culture of cotton of this character, the crop is not only sufficient to the home supply but enough to supply surrounding countries can be raised.

Mayor C. H. Bliss Dead.

Pensacola, Fla., July 26.—Charles H. Bliss, mayor, died Wednesday after an illness having its origin in his campaign of May and June, when a complication of diseases seized him.

Fatal Fall from Scaffold.

Conneaut, Ohio, July 26.—Two men were killed and five others seriously injured by the falling of scaffolding upon some work at the Pittsburg and Conneaut dock Wednesday.

THIS GIRL A HEROINE

One Interesting Story of Late Steamer Disaster.

IN WATER FOR TWO HOURS

Girl Had Never Swam Before, but Succeeded in Saving Herself and a Woman Passenger of the Doomed Ship.

Portland, Ore., July 26.—Miss Myabelle Watson, of Berkeley, the 16-year-old girl who supported a drowning woman for two hours after the wreck of the steamer Columbia, was one of the passengers on the steamer Georg W. Elder.

Miss Watson, with her companions, succeeded in floating a life boat, but it hardly had been lowered when the Columbia sank, the occupants being thrown in the water.

"When I came to the surface," said Miss Watson, "some persons were singing 'Nearer My God to Thee,' and other hymns. I had never swam a stroke before, but some how I had sense enough to try. I had gone but a little way when a woman rose beside me and caught me around the neck. I had to support her with one hand and swim with the other. Several men swam past us, but would offer no assistance. I struggled on as best I could until I was picked up more than two hours after the collision by Third Officer Hawse and his boat. I insisted that he take the woman on first, which he did, and soon had me out of the water. The boat crew thought she was dead and so did the doctors on the San Pedro, but to oblige Mr. Hawse, they made a determined effort to save her, and succeeded."

The woman to whom Miss Watson lent aid was Mrs. Julia George, of Cleveland, Ohio.

MUTUAL LIFE NAMES TRUSTEES

To Fill Several Vacancies on the Board.

New York, July 26.—The board of trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance company Wednesday elected as members of the board, to fill vacancies: Robert S. Woodward, of the City of Brooklyn; W. F. Harrity, of Philadelphia, W. B. Dean, of St. Paul, Emory W. Clark, of Detroit; and Major General J. H. Wilson, of Wilmington, Del.

Charles Emory Smith, of Philadelphia, who is a member of the International Policy Holders' committee, and Herman Ridder, of New York, who was nominated for trustee by that committee in the recent election, were nominated to fill further vacancies in the board. Both have consented to serve if elected.

Damage by Electric Storm.

Mt. Vernon, Ga., July 26.—A severe thunder storm passed over here Tuesday afternoon. Lightning struck the dwelling house occupied by D. W. Folsom, demolishing his furniture and damaging the house considerably. Mrs. Folsom was painfully burned. Lightning also struck the new water tower and played all over the electric wires in the new court house. City court was in session, and had to be suspended for a short while on account of the excitement. There was a large crowd of spectators in the courthouse at the time, among them many ladies of the town.

Beer in Tablet Form.

London, July 26.—A Danish civil engineer, says a consular report just issued here, has succeeded in producing beer in the form of tablets. These are dissolved in hot water. When the beverage is cooled, it is a beer of excellent quality and flavour.

Respited for Twenty Days.

Montgomery, Ala., July 26—Dave Beeman, who split the head of his wife open after slapping her down in the road, has been respited for twenty days by the governor on a plea of new evidence. He was to have been hanged Friday.

LIVELY TILT IN SENATE.

Free Pass Measure Before Legislature of Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., July 25.—There was a lively [illegible] Wednesday afternoon over the bill to allow sheriffs and other officers to ride on passes.

Mr. Lusk and Mr. Hamlett grew personal. Mr. Lusk intimated that the holding of passes was an awful thing. Mr. Hamlett asked if a man holding passes had not been elected to congress by the people of the seventh district over the protest of Mr. Lusk, who sought the honor. Mr. Lusk replied that while they had defeated him he held in his possession evidence of corruption on the part of the influences that beat him which he was ready to show at any time.

Cries of "Out of order" were heard over the chamber, and the matter was allowed to drop. The reference was to the race of Senator Lusk against Congressman Burnett in the seventh, in which the former was beaten.

The senate passed bills to have a high school in every county where there is not a state institution, to allow the railroad commission to raise, as well as lower rates; to tax slot machines and repeal the tax on tobacco to the extent of the new tax of $3.

Senator Hinson moved a memorial to congress to repeal the bankruptcy law. The house passed the early closing bill. The Smith bill, to make ten hours a day's work in factories was passed, as was a law to allow organization of grand juries at adjourned terms of circuit and city courts.

BUFFALO WINS TROPHY.

Tourists End Their 1,550 Mile Trip in Jersey City.

New York, July 26.—The 1,550-mile tour of the American Association of Cleveland, O., via Chicago to New York for a trophy offered by Charles J. Glidden for touring qualities displayed by the automobiles, ended in Jersey City at noon Wednesday.

About 50 cars out of the original one hundred starters finished, twenty of them with scores approximately perfect.

It was stated unofficially that the Buffalo Automobile club of Buffalo, N. Y., won the Glidden trophy.

The contest between the runabouts driven by H. K. Sheridan, of Cleveland, and C. S. Smith, of Philadelphia, for the Hower trophy, was so close that they may have to have another contest.

Drowned in the Chattahoochee.

Columbus, Ga., July 26.—Thomas Shellman, a young man of Phoenix City, Ala., was drowned in the Chattahoochee river within the city limits Wednesday morning. When his lifeless body was found floating in the river near the Fourteenth street bridge, it was supposed at first that murder had been committed, as there was a wound under the left eye that looked like a bullet wound. It developed that the young man had epileptic fits, and it it supposed that he had one of these fits when bathing in the river. The wound under the eye was due to the body striking a sharp rock, is the opinion of a physician. "Accidental drowning" was the verdict of the coroner's jury.

Strike of Dock Laborers.

Belfast, July 26.—Unable to obtain coal as a consequence of the continued strike of the dock laborers here, one of the largest spinning mills in this city has shut down. The strike began the latter part of June and there are still no signs of a settlement. Four thousand workmen are idle from the closing down of the spinning mill and almost all the other mills gave notice that they will be forced to close down. Scores of men will then be without work.

Released from Common Prison.

Rome, July 26.—Nunzio Nazi, ex-minister of public instruction, who is under arrest on a charge of embezzlement of $500,000 of public funds, has been released from the common prison in which he was confined. In future he will be under nominal arrest in his own residence here.

HARROWING STORIES

Accounts of the Famine-Stricken District of China.

TEN THOUSAND HAVE DIED

These Deaths Are Said To Have Occurred in One District Alone—United States Has Sent Money for Relief of Sufferers.

Victoria, B. C., July 26.—The Rev. T. N. Thompson, who arrived by the Aki Maru from Hau Chou Fu, in northern Kiangsi, and Mr. Rice, who arrived with his family from Tsingkiangchou on the Yangstekiang, were engaged in distributing famine relief to the sufferers in the affected districts and have harrowing stories to tell.

The deaths due to famine can scarcely be estimated owing to the failure of the Chinese to keep any records, but in the Tsingkiangchou district alone, it is said ten thousand died.

Relief came slowly at first, but soon large amounts came pouring in both from the United States and government sources.

The Chinese government gave a million and a half taels, but how much reached the famine-stricken people it was difficult to say.

There was also about a million and a half taels from the foreign relief in money and grain. About $25,000 is being retained for relief next season, the harvest being poor in the south, although good in north Kiangehu.

Brigandage was worse this year than in China's history, and the officials were severe, more than 400 executions taking place near Hau Chou Fu alone.

CONFERENCE TO BE HELD.

Efforts to Adjust Difference Between Miners and Operators.

Kansas City, July 26.—A conference will be held here to adjust, if possible differences between the Western Coal and Mining company and its miners, 300 of whom in the Pittsburg, Kansas, district struck, following a dispute over the powder question.

The men out represent those employed at only one mine, but the strike may spread to all of the Western company's mines, affecting close to 5,000 men in Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Indian Territory and Illinois. The men on strike want to use a certain grade of powder different from that sold them by the Western company, and ask the privilege of buying it wherever they choose.

The officers and board of district mine workers' union, of the several states, will meet the representatives of the Southwestern Coal Operators association here and try to settle the question.

Strike Said To Be Over.

Duluth, Minn., July 26.—A special from Virginia, Minn., says the strike there appears to be over. All is reported quiet and men are going back to work. Governor Johnson left Thursday on a special train for Hibbling and will investigate conditions there. The strike of the dock workers is now of secondary importance, and it is believed that the men will be willing to go back to work at the old wages and leave their troubles to arbitration.

Hottest in Twenty Years.

Atlanta, July 26.—Wednesday was the hottest day Atlanta has experienced in twenty years. The mercury went to 98 degrees at 2 o'clock. Wednesday was the fourth consecutive day when the temperature was over 95 degrees, a record for four days unequaled in the history of the local bureau.

Fatal Fall From Train.

Covington, Tenn., July 26.—E. H. Winford, acting supervisor of the Illinois Central, while inspecting the track near Melrose Wednesday, fell from the rear platform of a train and fractured his skull, from the effects of which he died soon afterward.

BABY DESERTED AT DEPOT IN JAX.

Basket Containing White Infant Found In Waiting Room.

YOUNG WOMAN IS SUSPECTED

Believed to Have Arrived on Early Train from Tampa—Baby Is a Dimple-Faced Boy About a Week Old. Sent to Orphanage.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 26.—Quite a sensation was caused at the Union Depot this morning, a few minutes before 7 o'clock, by the finding of a white baby, which has been left in the ladies' waiting room by some unknown person.

Everybody at the depot, from the newsboy up, wanted to see the little fellow, who was giving vent to his righteous indignation at being left alone with yells from a pair of lusty lungs. How any mother could abandon a chubby, dimple-faced boy like this one is hard to understand. As crowds gathered about the basket curious at its human contents there were many expressions of indignation for the cruel person who had cast the innocent little babe adrift in the world without so much as a bottle of

NATIONAL CONVENTION B. P. O. E.

Exalted Ruler Chubb Makes Interesting Report to Local Lodge.

The regular meeting of Gainesville Lodge No. [illegible] B. P. O. E. Thursday night was not [illegible] but those who were present enjoyed a rare treat in the verbal report of Exalted Ruler H. S. Chubb of his visit to Philadelphia as the representative of the lodge to the National Convention of the order. Col. Chubb is a fluent speaker upon all subjects, but on this occasion he surpassed himself, and when he concluded his report those present felt as if they had attended the convention in person, so realistic was his portrayal of scenes and events.

The lodge tendered him a unanimous vote of thanks for his excellent and interesting report.

Outwitted the Cat.

It is a moot question whether birds suddenly recover from fright or sham death to effect their escape when captured. A man living in one of the houses in Park row, London, is the possessor of a fine old Persian tabby cat, which not infrequently makes a raid on Hyde park and returns home with a fat prize. The other day one of the maids met puss climbing leisurely upstairs with a sparrow in his mouth. He was making the peculiar muffled "mowwow" that meant "here's fun." The bird's head dangled limply, its eyes were half shut, one wing was trailing, and feathers were missing from its tail. The owner of the house and the cat happened to come downstairs at the time, and the maid drew his attention to puss and the bird. The cat laid the sparrow at their feet with pride. The maid stooped to take the bird in her hand when it suddenly shot up and flew straight out of an open window. It had evidently not been hurt by the cat, which was so angry that it tried to jump out of the window too.

Lincoln and the Battery.

At the breaking out of the war Captain Tompkins of the battery of artillery, state of Rhode Island militia, stationed at Providence, enlisted with his entire command and left at once for Washington. Soon after his arrival his battery, together with other troops, was reviewed by the president in front of the White House, and Captain Tompkins, proud of his battery, brought it past the president in the very best shape he was capable of doing and at once returned to be presented to the president, as was done with all the other officers. When the captain was presented, Lincoln said loud enough for all near by to hear, "Captain, your battery is certainly a very pretty battery—in fact, the prettiest battery I have ever seen," and then in so low a tone that no one but the captain heard him, "but I must say, captain, I have seen very few batteries."

Unexpected Answers.

The French government, wishing to obtain definite statistics on points relating to certain Turkish provinces, sent blanks with questions to be answered to the provincial governors. The replies received from the pasha of Damascus are worth quoting:

Question.—What is the death rate in your province? Answer.—In Damascus it is the will of Allah that all should die. Some die young and some die old.

Q.—What is the annual number of births? A.—God alone can say. I do not know and hesitate to inquire.

Q.—Are the supplies of water sufficient and of good quality? A.—From the remotest period no one has died in Damascus of thirst.

General remarks as to the local sanitation.—Man should not bother himself or his brother with questions that concern only God.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE FOR LAKE CITY

The Latest Institution of Learning In The State.

SCHOOL TO BE CO EDUCATIONAL

The President of the School Must be a Baptist—College Will be Open to All Young Men and Women Florida.

The Baptist convention which adjourned in Lake City Thursday night was the largest and most enthusiastic Baptist convention ever held in the history of the State. Though the discussions were sometimes very animated, perfect harmony prevailed. After the convention had voted to accept Lake City's most generous offer, Rev. C. A. Owen, pastor of the Lake City Baptist church, representing the mayor and city council, presented to Governor Jennings, president pro tem of the convention, a warranty deed to what was once the University of Florida and the State warrant for $15,000 in cash.

A little after 10 o'clock Thursday morning the vast crowd went to the college grounds, where Senator Cone, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced Rev. C. A. Owen, who delivered an address of welcome in behalf of the Baptists of Lake City, and then Dr. Julian, who, in behalf of Lake City and Columbia county, welcomed the convention. Senator Carson of Kissimmee replied to the address of welcome. Then followed the dinner—and such a dinner! No people ever showed more unbounded hospitality.

The convention reassembled in the Baptist church at 2:30 and resumed its work. Twenty trustees were elected—four for one year, four for two years, four for three years, four for four years and four for five years. Gainesville was given one trustee, Hon. P. M. Rivers.

The following facts are emphasized:

1. This college is the property of the Baptist State Convention, incorporated.

2. Every trustee must be a member of a Florida Baptist church. This guarantees home control. An effort was made to place the same restrictions around the teaching force, but this was voted down by an overwhelming majority.

3. The new school was named Columbia College, the word Baptist being left out.

4. An endowment of $57,000 was raised in a few minutes.

5. The college will open on Tuesday, Oct. 1, 1907.

The presidency has been offered to Dr. C. A. Munnerly of Georgia.

JAMES VANLANDINGHAM DEAD.

Passed Away at His Home in Montecocha from Dropsy.

Mr. James Vanlandingham, one of the oldest settlers of this county, died at his home in Montecocha Friday morning with dropsy. Mr. Vanlandingham had been in bad health for the past year, and the end was no surprise to his friends.

Mr. Vanlandingham was born in South Carolina, but moved to this State before the war. When the war broke out he was among the first to join the Confederate army. He was color bearer of his company and his comrades all say that there was never a braver soldier in the ranks. He was a member of Company Six Seventh Florida Regiment and was with that regiment when it surrendered. He was 77 years old at the time of his death.

The funeral will take place today at the Antioch cemetery at 11 o'clock.

To the bereaved relatives The Sun extends sympathy in their hour of trouble.

Editor The Sun: I notice you caution the people to clean up their lots around town. Why not call attention of the city authorities to their making a dumping ground of C. A. Colclough's lot next to the fire station? They are unloading the manure of the fire horses there, instead of carrying it out of the city, and are also piling all the rotten flooring from the stables, besides old trash of every description. The stench from the city's refuse there is terrible. They compel the people to clean up, and still allow this refuse to accumulate right under the noses of the city council.

Respectfully,

R. G. BASS.

SULPHUR BATHS AT HOME.

They Heal the Skin and Take Away Its Impurities.

Sulphur baths heal Skin Diseases, and give the body a wholesome glow. Now you don't have to go off to a high priced resort to get them. Put a few spoonfuls of Hancock's Liquid Sulphur in the hot water, and you get a perfect Sulphur bath right in your own home.

Apply Hancock's Liquid Sulphur to the affected parts, and Eczema and other stubborn skin troubles are quickly cured. Dr. R. H. Thomas of Valdosta, Ga., was cured of a painful skin trouble, and he praises it in the highest terms. Your druggist sells it.

Hancock's Liquid Sulphur Ointment is the best cure for Sores, Pimples, Blackheads and all inflammation. Gives a soft, velvety skin.

In Mayor's Court.

There was but little doing in the Mayor's court Friday. There was but one arrest, that of Annie Tisby on the charge of fighting. She was found guilty and fined $10 and costs.

WEATHER NOT SO WARM IN FLORIDA

As It Is In the Northern and Western States

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME

Experience of a Visitor Who Expected to Find the Climate Unendurable During June and July—Says the State Is Summer Resort.

St. Petersburg Independent.

A gentleman from Michigan was among us this week. He said when he decided to come to Florida it took heroic will power to brave the terrible heat of the southernmost State. He came here with the feeling that he was going to be roasted or shriveled up and blown away with the hot tropic wind.

As an extra precaution he carried in his pocket a thermometer and said that he was ready to turn around and go back when the thermometer got up to 100 in the shade.

He is the most surprised man in Florida.

When we met him the other day he was studying the recording thermometer in front of The Independent office. Alongside of it is the daily weather report from all sections in the United States.

The thermometer showed a range of temperature from 68 degrees to 90. The 90-degree weather was for only an hour for one day. The hottest yet recorded this season was 92, last Thursday.

The weather report showed that the Central States district was having 98, 96 and 94-degree heat, with the night reading at 85 to 87.

The gentleman from Michigan remarked: "Why, Florida is a summer resort. I haven't felt oppressed since coming down here. In my State I frequently go about looking for a breathing spot. I seem all choked up. Many a night have I gotten up and sought air—I felt as if my last moment had come. Here I sleep like a trooper. The air is pure, the breeze is always stirring and—well it does pass all understanding.

And in about the same words a gentleman from Philadelphia expressed himself to us.

Florida has the best winter and summer and fall and spring climate on earth. Three hundred and sixty-five days in each year, and in some years three hundred and sixty-six days, are simply perfect. There has not been a full cloudy day on this sub-peninsula for over seven months.

Cheerfully Recommended for Rheumatism.

O. G. Higbee, Danville, Ill., writes, Dec. 2, 1901: "About two years ago I was laid up for months with rheumatism. I tried Ballard's Snow Liniment; one bottle cured me. I can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from like affliction." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

OF INTEREST TO SHIPPERS.

The Sun is under obligations to the Florida Railroad Commission for an abstract of the law relating to the collection of claims against transportation companies, which became effective January 2, 1907. It will be observed that under this law transportation companies are allowed sixty days in which to settle claims for overcharges, loss or damage, and upon their failure to do so suit being brought, if the claimant is successful in his suit he will recover the amount of his claim, fifty per cent interest additional and attorney's fees. As the commission says, it is hoped that this law will prove a solution to the much mooted question of collecting claims against transportation companies. Of course the law will apply only to shipments within the State, that is, shipments made from one point in Florida to another point in Florida, and do not cross the State line at all.

The law in the act in full, omitting the title and enacting clause.

Section 1. That it shall be the duty of all common carriers operating within this State, and they are hereby required when any person files with any agent to them or any station agent of said common carrier to be made a claim for any freight or express lost or damaged by said common carrier, or for any overcharge paid to such common carrier on any freight or express, to pay the said claim within sixty days from its filing or presentation to said common carrier or any station agent of such common carrier.

Section 2. That should any common carrier fail to comply with the provisions of Section one of this act the said common carrier making default shall be liable to the claimant for the amount of his claim fifty per cent per annum interest on the principal sum of said claim from the date of the filing of the claim with, or presentation of the claim to, the common carrier or any station agent of such common carrier, at which time the said claimant shall have the right and recover judgment for the same against said common carrier, and shall be allowed the said fifty per cent per annum in addition to the principal sum of said claim, and the same shall be allowed in the verdict giving him judgment. Provided, however, that the claimant shall not recover and have judgment for the said fifty per cent per annum unless he recovers judgment for a sum which fixes the principal sum of said claim at an amount greater than the amount which said common carrier had offered and tendered to the claimant in settlement of his claim before the expiration of said sixty days in which the said common carrier is required to pay such claims under the provisions of section one of this act.

Section 3. That any common carrier who fails to comply with the provisions of section one of this act shall, in the event that the claimant shall prevail in an action to recover on his claim, be liable for a reasonable attorney's fee, and it shall be the duty of the court to allow the claimant such reasonable attorney's fee, which shall be fixed by the court, not to exceed fifteen dollars if the amount recovered does not exceed one hundred dollars, and not to exceed fifteen per cent on any amount recovered greater than the sum of one hundred dollars.

Section 4. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Section 5. That this Act shall become operative upon its passage and approval by the Governor.

Approved June 3, 1907.

FRANK ADAMS.

The editor of The Sun has always had a warm place in his heart for the noble son of Hamilton, Hon. Frank Adams. There is not a brainier, more gifted man in the South and those who know him best love him most. Many of his friends hoped that he would be a candidate for the United States Senate in 1908, but it seems that they are to be disappointed, as the following card from him in The Jasper News of July 26th indicates:

"To the People of Florida:

"Some Time ago, feeling that I had served as Senator from this county long enough, and reasoning that the county would not suffer by 'office rotation,' I tendered to Governor Broward my resignation, to take effect at the general election in 1908, at which time my successor could be chosen. This action on my part seems to have been accepted as evidence that I would be a candidate for the United States Senate. This was not so intended.

"He whose bosom would not swell with pardonable pride at the reception of assurances of esteem and support that have reached me from press and people while associating my name with the United States Senatorship would have to be void of appreciation, and low in the scale of manhood. These letters, personal assurances and newspaper kindnesses go far towards making life worth living, and will be remembered and cherished as long as 'reason sits enthroned.'

"That man who says that he does not want to go to the United States Senate leaves room for doubt as to his sincerity, and yet there are reasons why a man's ambition should be voluntarily surrendered or forcibly restrained. I have two good and sufficient reasons why I cannot consent to attempt ambition's gratification. The first is my family. The most of my children are now at that age where a father's guiding hand and restraining influence is most needed, and should be most freely given and most carefully exercised. The second reason is: My business associates, and they number a good many, had a right to feel when they linked their future with mine that they would have the benefit of such business assistance as my presence would afford. These men enter a serious objection, feeling that if I were successful I would be away from my business the most of each year. However, if in the years to come lease of life is given, and my domestic and business affairs so shaped that I can afford it, and a sufficient number of voters will commission me, I shall gladly attempt to represent, in part, our beloved State in the upper branch of the National Congress.

"I am not sufficiently egotistical as to feel that my being in the race, or out of it, will to any degree affect Florida's political situation. This is written solely as a sense of duty to political friends to free them for such action as their good judgment may direct.

"With a heart filled with gratitude to the people and press of Florida, I am with great respect,

"Yours truly,

"FRANK ADAMS."

O. S. Marsden gives this very sane advice in The Success Magazine:

There is nothing more depressing than dwelling upon lost opportunities of a misspent life. Whatever your past has been forget it. It throws a shadow upon the present or makes melancholy the prospect of success; nothing in it which helps you; there is not a single reason why you should retain it in your memory and there are a thousand reasons why you should bury it so deeply that it can never be resurrected. Nothing is more foolish, more positively wicked than to drag the skeletons of the past—the hideous images, the foolish deeds, the unfortunate experiences of the past—into today's work to mar and spoil it. There are plenty of people who have been failures up to the present moment who could do wonders in the future if they would only forget the past, if they only had the ability to cut it off, to close the door on it forever and start anew.

That silence is dastardly which gives weak assent to error through the fear of result that might follow in outspokenness in the critical hour. These are days when wrong is to be avenged by free and unfettered public sentiment. The freer you make our institutions, and the more you educate the masses, the more surely do you make public opinion a court of last resort. Public opinion is feared more today in church and state than the tread of armies and the presence of powerful navies.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness can only be had by killing the germ, and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

IRRESISTIBLE SLEEP.

An Experience in the Fierce Cold of Tierra del Fuego.

"Whoever sits down," said Dr. Solander to his company among the hills of Tierra del Fuego, "will sleep, and whoever sleeps will wake no more." The brave doctor and his men had tramped a considerable distance through the swamps, when the weather became suddenly colder and fierce blasts of wind drove the snow before it. In a short time the cold became so intense as to cause the most oppressive drowsiness. Dr. Solander was the first to find the inclination to sleep, and he insisted upon lying down. In vain his companions entreated and remonstrated. He lay down, and when told that he would inevitably freeze to death answered that he desired nothing more than to lie down and die. One of the black servants lay down also. Solander declared himself willing to go on, but begged to be allowed to sleep first, and in a few moments the two men were in a profound sleep. Soon after, those who had been sent forward to kindle a fire returned with the welcome news that the fire awaited them at a short distance. The men happily succeeded in awakening Solander, who, although he had not been asleep five minutes, had almost lost the use of his limbs, and the flesh was so shrunken that his shoes fell from his feet. It was with much urging and assistance that he consented to go on, but all attempts to arouse the black man were futile, and he was left to die.

HE WANTED REST.

What Verdi Did With the Key of a Locked Piano.

Not all the great composers have courted the constant adulation of the world. Verdi used to lament that he was unable to find a refuge, even for a brief space, from the reputation that preceded him wherever he went.

At one time he desired to spend a much needed holiday at the watering place of Montecatini. When he arrived, he found that in one of the apartments assigned to him stood a grand piano of noted make. On the rest, by way of compliment, lay the score of "Il Trovatore." As soon as he caught sight of it the veteran flew into a rage, hastily locked the instrument, threw the score into a corner and, calling for his host, demanded in tragic tones:

"Lead me to the spot that overhangs the steepest precipice!"

Wondering, the host did as he was bidden, and on reaching the summit the maestro, who was almost exhausted from fatigue, flung the key of the piano into the abyss, energetically exclaiming as he did so:

"Now I have done something to secure rest and quiet. On the day of my departure I shall send a locksmith to provide the piano with a new key, but while I am here I pray you let it remain as it is."—New York Tribune.

His Grace.

Little Milly is a good Sunday school scholar and on that account was invited with two or three others to spend the day at the minister's residence by way of reward. When the dinner came on the good man said such a long grace before meat that Milly yawned and looked hungrily at the covers.

"Why are you yawning, Milly?" asked the minister. "Does not your father say grace?"

"Oh, yes," answered Milly promptly, "but it isn't so long as that."

"And what does he say?" pursued the clergyman, hoping to obtain a text for a little homily.

"He says different things, but last time when he sat down he took off the cover and said: 'Great snakes! Do you call this a dinner?'"

The homily was postponed.—Strand Magazine.

The Wrong Shop.

He was only a plain American panhandler, says the New York Globe, but he ordered his "schooner" of Bowery beer with the sang froid of a plain American plutocrat. Midway in the consumption he sidled to the free lunch counter and reduced the pile of big sausages by one.

Two more gulps of beer and a second and third large sausage disappeared. Washing these down, he concluded that he needed a sausage and got it; then for the door.

"Here, Bill," the genial barkeeper called familiarly. "Come back a minute."

The panhandler returned expectantly.

"Say, Bill," the barkeeper continued in a confidential way, "the next time you want a glass of beer you go to a butcher shop, see?"

She Had a Substitute.

Influential Member—I am glad to notice, doctor, that your wife never turns her head to see who comes into church late on Sunday morning. The Rev. Dr. Goodman—No, but she makes me tell her all about them after we go home.—Chicago Tribune.

Vague.

"My husband is really very attentive. Yesterday he bought me a dozen rolls."—Meggendorfer Blatter.

A QUAKER ROMANCE.

The Wooing of Katherine Hollingsworth by George Robinson.

Valentine Hollingsworth accompanied William Penn in the good ship Welcome and settled in Delaware upon the banks of the Brandywine. Katherine, his daughter, "a delectable Quaker maiden," the pride of the little settlement, was wooed and won by big George Robinson. Pitt George was of the Church of England, and Katherine "must be married in meeting."

"George," says the author of "Heirlooms [illegible]," "was willing to join the society, be a Friend and be married in meeting or anywhere else that Katherine was to. Accordingly he and [illegible] in the first declaration [illegible] month, 1688."

The rules [illegible] and "scruples," seeing that George's conversion was very sudden, and they asked him this searching question:

"Friend Robinson, dost thou join the Society of Friends [illegible] truth or for the love of Katherine Hollingsworth?"

George hesitated. He [illegible] truth and he did wish to marry Katherine. So he answered:

"I wish to join the society for the love of Katherine Hollingsworth."

The Friends counseled [illegible] and that Friend Robinson should be [illegible] suasively and instructively [illegible] Shrewd men as they were, they allowed Katherine to deal with him, and within a year George joined the society as a true convert.

An old manuscript reads, "He and Katherine were permitted to begin a long and happy married life together, being for many years an example of piety and goodness to those around them and retaining their love of truth and loyalty to the society to the last."

HE HIRED WEBSTER.

A Sharp Nantucket Man's Bargain With the Great Lawyer.

Of course Webster was in demand by those who could afford to pay for his services. A sharp Nantucket man is said to have got the better of the great defender of the constitution in an amusing way, however. He had a small case which was to be tried at Nantucket one week in June, and he posted to Webster's office in great haste. It was a contest with a neighbor over a matter of considerable local interest, and his pride as a litigant was at stake. He told Webster the particulars and asked what he would charge to conduct the case.

"Why," said Webster, "you can't afford to hire me. I should have to stay down there the whole week, and my fee would be more than the whole case is worth. I couldn't go down there for less than $1,000. I could try every case on the docket as well as one, and it wouldn't cost any more, for one case would take my time for the entire week anyway."

"All right, Mr. Webster," quickly responded the Nantucketer. "Here's your $1,000. You come down, and I'll fix it so you can try every case."

Webster was so amused over this proposition that he kept his word. He spent the entire week in Nantucket and appeared on one side or the other in every case that came up for hearing. The shrewd Nantucketer hired Daniel out to all his friends who were in litigation and received in return about $1,500, so that he got Webster's services for nothing and made a good profit to boot.

The Hygiene of Underwear.

The average person wearing two sets of underclothing a week, says the Youth's Companion, will make the change in the middle of the week, but it would be far better if the two sets were kept going the entire week on alternate days. With the biweekly change, the clothes worn during the day are aired only for seven or eight hours in the twenty-four and never have the purifying process of a sunning. With two sets going on alternate days, one set can be aired two nights and one day, and, if possible, should be hung up where they can receive the direct rays of the sun for some hours. They should not be kept in a dark closet.

A Wonderful Cataract.

The falls of Iguazu, situate near where Argentina, Paraguay and Brazil meet, form one of the most wonderful cataracts in the world, being greater in extent and more varied in character than the better known falls of Niagara. The first plunge of the Iguazu falls is 210 feet, followed by two others of 100 feet each, while between the two series of falls there are cataracts and rapids covering a vast expanse and surrounding picturesque islands.

The Left Wing.

"Is there any portion of the fowl you prefer, major?" asked the hostess blandly.

"The left wing, if you please."

"The left wing?"

"Yes," retorted the major, gazing dubiously at the platter. "I believe it is always good military tactics to bring the left wing of a veteran corps into action."—London Tit-Bits.

WOOING SLEEP.

A Prescription That Worked Well in Philadelphia.

A haggard looking man strolled into a downtown drug store the other day and asked the druggist for help. He said he had trouble in getting to sleep when he retired. No matter how sleepy he might be during the day or how much sleep he might have lost, the moment his head touched the pillow he was wide awake and lay thus for several hours. Once asleep he was very hard to waken, but he had to be up at a certain hour, and in consequence of his peculiar affliction he was losing more sleep than he could stand. The drug clerk regarded him quizzically a few moments and then replied:

"My dear man, you don't want medicine. What you want is something to change the trend of your thoughts. Do as a friend of mine did. He was troubled the same way and found that the old folks' plan of imagining sheep passing a barrier and counting them was out of date, so he began trying to name all the states in the Union. He soon got them so he could classify them alphabetically. Then, when they no longer interested him, he started on the counties of his state. He now has them at his tongue's end, classified up to the fourth letter. Now he is starting on state capitals and their locations. Then he will take up county seats. A moment's glance at an atlas during the day shows him when he is wrong, and the beauty of the plan is that he rarely has to think along those lines longer than ten minutes before he is sound asleep. To make it short, the study of geography is a good narcotic."—Philadelphia Record.

A BOY HUNT.

Chased From Hedge to Hedge by a Big Pack of Weasels.

The following extract from an interesting book may be of interest to our friends. It is "From My Life as an Angler," by William Henderson, published in London in 1879.

"About this time, while rambling in the picturesque lane leading from Harrington to Windlestone with two other boys, an adventure occurred sufficiently startling to two little fellows of nine to ten years old. We were busily engaged in picking wild strawberries which clustered in the hedgerows when we saw at about a hundred yards distance a pack of at least twenty weasels running from hedge to hedge and evidently scenting out our steps. It flashed upon us that we were being hunted. So, springing over the nearest hedge, we ran across a pasture field and, standing upon the farther bank, looked back toward our assailants. To our dismay we saw the whole pack, with noses to ground, steadily tracking our course. The word was given, 'Run, run!' and off we scampered across another field to take up our position on another hedge. But the pursuit was going on, and the creatures were evidently gaining upon us, so with a wild shout we fled for the village, which, happily for us, was not far off. I have frequently heard of persons being attacked by weasels, but was never hunted by them on any other occasion."

The above must have occurred about 1812, the locality being the north of England.—Forest and Stream.

Shooting the Steenbuck.

Many of the poor Boers in the Transvaal, by whom all the shooting of game is done is for the pot and not for sport, have perfected a system of shooting with the assistance of oxen. A steenbuck has no fear of cattle and will lie still even if they graze right over him. The hunter gets together a few cattle and with his gun walks behind them in such a way that he cannot be seen from the front. Great care has to be exercised to drive the oxen so that they may seem to be grazing aimlessly. The hunter must be ready to shoot without having to alter his position. The slightest movement is noticed by the buck.

He Could Count.

A very little boy was in the room where a young lady was practicing on the piano. She was counting aloud: "One, two, three, four." The little fellow, quite surprised, after awhile went to her and said earnestly, "He must be alive!"—Youth's Companion.

Fish or Golf Story.

While driving to the fourth green of the Newark golf course a local golfer sent his ball into the river Devon and killed a two pound fish. Both ball and fish were found together, the latter bearing marks of its injury.—London Standard.

His Change of Front.

"My view on coeducation," he said firmly, "is that it should be forbidden. It is deleterious to mental development. It leads to"—

"John," said his wife, entering unexpectedly, "are you telling Mr. Smith the dear old days when we were college classmates?"

"Y-yes," said John.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A prudent haste is wisdom's half.—Italian Proverb.

THE BLIND OF CAIRO.

To Be Found Everywhere In the Shops and on the Streets.

The first thing that impresses the stranger in Cairo is the number of blind—men, women and children—to be found everywhere in the shops and on the streets. Ophthalmia is very prevalent throughout Egypt. Because of superstition concerning "the evil eye" the native mothers of the middle or the lower class do not wash the eyes of their babies at all. Watching the flies buzzing unheeded around and upon these blind children, a stranger hastens to buy a fly whisk. These are for sale everywhere and are quite attractive with their ornaments of fancy beads and palm leaf fiber. Blind beggars greet one at every corner. Even in the high class Egyptian families there are many blind. The lower classes of Egyptians are given much to hasheesh—that is, the lower classes in the large cities—and, although it is against the law to sell it, one will have the hasheesh places pointed out, and the men who smoke the drug are seen everywhere. They are distinguished by the peculiar appearance of their eyes, which become red, swollen and baggy underneath, and by the peculiar color of the skin, which resembles somewhat the skin of a Chinese opium smoker.—Harriet Quimby in Leslie's Weekly.

A LOST CONTRACT.

The Little Thing That May Sometimes Prevent a Sale.

A pen once lost me an order. I had just worked up the executive of a large concern into a desire to buy. I had my contract form lying on his desk with my finger on the dotted line. He reached over toward his pen rack, took off a pen and plunged it into the ink well. He turned to me with a frown on his face—the well was empty.

I was ready with a fountain pen. The pen was uncapped. I handed it to him. He started to write. The ink would not flow. I took it and shook it. Again he made the attempt, with no result.

"I will get one," he said. So he stepped into the other room. Evidently some one stopped him with a question, for he did not come back for three minutes. Then he stood at his desk. He looked down at the contract.

"I believe I had better think this matter over again," he said. And all the talk I put up could not budge him.

I had lost a sale because my fountain pen was empty. Now, one of my regular morning duties, week in and week out, just as regular as my shave and my checking over of calls to be made and the making out of my expense account, is filling my fountain pen.—James N. Bowen in System.

A Great Polyglot.

Solomon Caesar Malan habitually conversed with his children in Latin, but on his deathbed, when Solomon, his son, began to recite a psalm in the familiar Vulgate of his youth, the dying man, scholar to the last, muttered, "Non ita, non ita! Hebraice;" so the son repeated it in Hebrew.

He could, for that matter, just as well have said it in Coptic or Chinese, for to him all tongues came naturally. At eighteen he could write in thirteen languages, oriental and European, and among his published works we find translations from the Arabic, Persian, Syriac, Ethiopic, Hebrew, Coptic, Armenian, Georgian, Mongol, Chinese, Korean, Japanese, Greek, Russian, Welsh and Gothic. He is said to have learned to speak Armenian fluently in a fortnight, and he preached in Georgian to a Georgian congregation in the Cathedral of Kutais.—London Saturday Review.

A Patient Dog.

My brother has two dogs, one a large mastiff, the other a tiny Spitz which he can hold in the hollow of his hand. Don, the big dog, had been taught to lie down and face his food, but not to touch until the command, "Eat," had been given him. His mistress, in a hurry to leave for a day's shopping, gave Don his breakfast one day, but forgot the permission to "eat," and when she returned late that night the faithful dog lay with his paws on the plate of food, but not a particle had been touched!—Chicago Tribune.

Blunt Dr. Dougal.

Dr. Dougal of Keith, who was made an honorary member of the Aberdeen society in 1795, had a reputation for bluntness. A talkative woman went to him one day and said to him, "Doctor, what is the matter with my tongue?" "Just needin' a rest," he replied shortly. On another day a patient went to him and complained, "I have a deal to suffer with my eyes, doctor," whereupon he answered, "Better suffer with them than without."

Fancy Rice.

"I want some rice," said the haughty lady. "You have it for sale, have you not?"

"Sure, ma'am," replied the grocer. "Six cents a pound or two pounds for"—

"Oh, I must have the most expensive kind. It's for a very fashionable wedding."—Philadelphia Press.

THROWING THINGS AWAY.

The Time When You Weary of Hoarded Incumbrances.

"I am beginning to throw away things," said Mr. Flittingby, according to the New York Sun—"going through my papers and things and throwing things away.

"I have received from newspaper clippings that I would never have thought of but for this reminder of some things I have forgotten so completely that even the sight of them does not recall to me what it was I cut out and saved them for. How many of the things which we bother ourselves with at some time we forget all about!

"Here are letters from men long since dead, and bits that recall forgotten parts of my life that now seem strange to me. We so much in the habit of keeping these old receipts? The men that gave them are dead now or moved away, and these accounts will never be sent in again, and if they were they have long since been outlawed by the lapse of time. Throw them away.

"Here are old birthday cards, with pretty, with affectionate, with loving greetings, bringing most pleasant memories, though they do remind us of the years that have gone since first they came to us. And why should we preserve them longer? We can remember, we can cherish those who sent them without them to remind us, and they would only lie there with the old papers in the drawers. To the basket gently with them.

"And here, as I live, are some old valentines! Well, well! This does make us young again. But, dear, dear, that was long ago. Why should we keep them longer? To the basket gently. We have the valentine herself now.

"There are so many things that we put away to save, to treasure. Life seems to stretch away interminably before us when we are young and we are going to keep these things always, and it takes us happily a long, long time to get where we can see the beginning of the end. Youth envelops us with a buoyancy and strength that make life seem a joy that is to go on forever, and in sturdy middle age, indeed, we take little account of the years, but then comes a time when we begin to realize that two and two make four and no more.

"Now, I have arrived at that time of life when I begin to know. Don't, for heaven's sake, think that I am taking a mournful view. Far from it.

"Life never seemed to me so full of joy as now, and I'm good for a good long stretch of it; yet, with senses keen and understanding broadening, finding enjoyment in everything and taking this broader view of things, not occupied too much by detail, this stored up accumulation of long gathering truck seems superfluous and useless, and so I'm just going through it and throwing things away.

"This lot that I've been going through today is just stuff that has accumulated in the cubbyholes in my desk, but I've got boxes and bundles of such stuff stored away, and I must get it out, a box or a bundle at a time, and go through it and throw it away, for of what use will it ever be to anybody? What becomes of this sort of stuff, anyway, when people—er-r—I mean why shouldn't I sort this stuff out now myself and not leave it to cumber things up for somebody else to throw away?

"There may be some things, to be sure, that I'll want to save, things that other people will want to keep, and these things I will save; but as to the bulk of this stuff, why, it's just so much hindering, useless baggage, and this I'll throw away and with the decks cleared start life anew."

The Old Man's Money.

"Did you hear 'bout the old man's experience in the bankin' business?"

"No; what was it?"

"Why, he put $80 in bank—first money he'd ever put there—an' the boys tol' him that he'd better keep a eye on the bank, as they failed mighty frequent, an' he wus liable to lose all."

"Well?"

"Well, he hung round that bank so constant that the bank people got suspicious of him an' thought he wus goin' to blow the bank up. Whenever he seen the cashier come out he follered him round town, always keepin' him in sight. An' it wus the same way with the bank president an' all the clerks. An' when he finally applied fer a job as janitor o' the institution, so's he could be on the spot in case o' trouble, they had him arrested, an' the judge decided that he wus crazy, an' they wuz jest about to send him to a lunatic asylum when his friends explained things, an' the bank folks give him his money an' tol' him to git."—Exchange.

The Inundation.

"If you please, sir," said a verger to a churchwarden in a village, "the new rector is to be inundated next Tuesday week, and I have come to ask you whether you will be able to be present." "Certainly," replied the churchwarden, who was something of a humorist, "and I hope there will be an overflowing congregation."—London Answers.

FIERY CHARLES READE.

The Author-Manager's Way With Ellen Terry, the Actress.

Ellen Terry at the age of twenty resolved to leave the stage and ... and stayed six years in the country. How she came back to it is told in "Ellen Terry," by Christopher St. John.

Charles Reade when hunting in Hertfordshire met her by chance in a country lane and told her in his rough yet kindly way that she was a fool to have left the stage.

"Why don't you go back?"

"I don't want to."

"You will some day."

"Never!" Then, mindful of certain financial troubles threatening her moral peace, Ellen Terry added, "At least not until some one gives me $200 a week."

"Done!" said Charles Reade. "I will."

The part Miss Terry played for Reade was Philippa Chester in "The Wandering Heir." At the end of the run of this piece she did not leave the management, but went on tour in several of his plays. The tour was financially disastrous, but a suggestion from Ellen Terry that her parts did not equal her salary and that she had better leave, as any one could play them, parts equally well, was received with the greatest indignation by the fiery author-manager.

"Madam, you are a rat! Don't imagine it is generous to desert the sinking ship," expressed his view of the situation.

An old lady who lived with Miss Terry at this time and was her inseparable companion remonstrated with Reade for his harsh language to her "Nelly." "I love her better than you do or any puling woman," Reade answered.—Manchester Guardian.

VANISHING TROUSERS.

A Simple Trick Which May or May Not Be Humorous.

This is a simple trick, and every married woman can perform it, but it requires the assistance of a confederate with a big bag of shining tinware on his back.

First get a husband with an old pair of slightly worn trousers in his wardrobe; then have the confederate the man with the bag of tinware, come to the back door and knock gently. The wife must then peep out in a frightened way, and immediately the man with the tinware tells a tale that resembles an advertisement. The wife stops to think a few minutes. Suddenly she must rush to the wardrobe, but only after the man rattles the bright tinware to arouse her. The wife must walk back to the man again with the trousers. The man must take them and hand the wife a few tin pans. All the while the man with the tinware must smile happily. At last the transaction is completed, and, presto change! the husband's trousers have disappeared and in their place appear some tinware on the kitchen table. This trick is very novel and will amuse the husband greatly. The trick should not be performed while the husband is in bed unless he has an extra pair of trousers.—F. P. Pitner, Judge.

Scared Out of Writing Badly.

A well known musician, who wrote a very illegible hand, once sent an unusually hopeless scrawl to a friend. The latter studied it a minute, gave it up in despair and then sat down and wrote in reply: "I shall be most happy to dine with you tomorrow at 6. Kindest regards to your wife," etc. In less than half an hour his friend appeared breathless at his door.

"There's some misunderstanding," he said anxiously. "I wrote you a note asking you if you could play the piano part of the trio at Brown's recital and here you've sent me an acceptance of a dinner invitation. But I didn't invite you to dinner."

"Well," returned the other blandly, "I didn't suppose you'd really send an invitation to dinner, but I could not read a word of your note, and in case hereafter I mean always to take it for granted that you're asking me to dine."

For one of his correspondents, at least the offender now writes legibly.

Peculiarities of Long Island.

The class in geography in one of the Brooklyn schools was asked by the teacher, "What are some of the chief peculiarities of Long Island?"

The pupils tried to think, and after awhile, a boy raised his hand.

"I know," said he.

"Well, what are they?" asked the teacher.

"Why," said the boy, with a triumphant look, "on the south side you see the sea and on the north side you hear the sound."

Mamma Remembered.

Papa (enraged)—Well, Constance daughter, I've never in all my life saw as soft, green, unsophisticated, as an idiot as young Puddingtwo. Mamma (emphatically)—I have!—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A son never realizes how much his own father knew until he starts to advise children of his own.—Philadelphia Times-Union.

W. D. DICKINSON,
Tax Collector, Alachua county, Fla.

Gainesville, Fla., June 27th, 1907.

Should any persons who have paid their taxes, find any items of their property advertised to be sold in the foregoing list, if they will send me the number and date of their receipt, I will investigate, and if correct, will have same immediately taken from the list at my expense.

We have been as careful as possible in preparing this list, but it is a very difficult undertaking, which covers a period of eight months' collections. There is a possibility that some items may have gotten on the list, on which the taxes had already been paid. I will cheerfully correct all such errors, without any expense to the tax payer, provided, my attention is called to it, as per above request. Very respectfully,

W. D. DICKINSON,
Tax Collector.

THINKING ALOUD.

A Ruse Which Roused Lord Dudley and Formed a Friendship.

One of the earls of Dudley, who was addicted to the practice of thinking aloud, found himself in a very awkward predicament on a certain occasion. He was to spend the evening at the house of a friend and ordered his carriage early, as he had a long drive back to his own home.

When the hour arrived the carriage was not forthcoming. Seeing that Lord Dudley was considerably annoyed by the delay, one of the guests, whose way homeward lay past his lordship's house, politely offered him a seat in his carriage. The gentleman was almost a stranger to Lord Dudley, but the offer was accepted.

The drive did not prove a very sociable one. Lord Dudley took his seat and immediately relapsed into silence, his thoughts apparently engrossed by some unpleasant subject. Presently he began to speak in a low but distinctly audible tone of voice, and his companion, to his astonishment, heard him say:

"I'm very sorry I accepted his offer. I don't know the man. It was civil certainly, but the worst is I suppose I must ask him to dinner."

Silence followed this bit of audible thinking. His lordship was unaware that he had betrayed his thoughts and was probably still meditating upon the same unpleasant subject when the voice of his companion broke the stillness.

Apparently this stranger was afflicted with the same malady from which his lordship suffered, for he exactly imitated Lord Dudley's tone as he said:

"Perhaps he'll think I did it to make his acquaintance. Why, I would have done the same to any farmer on his estate. I hope he won't ask me to dinner, for I shan't accept his invitation."

Lord Dudley's abstraction was all gone. He listened to the other's words, immediately comprehending the joke against himself, and frankly offered his hand to his companion, making many apologies for his involuntary rudeness.

The stranger proved magnanimous, and from that night the two became fast friends.

THE TAXIDERMIST.

He Stretches Animal Skins Over Plaster of Paris Forms.

Recently a prominent taxidermist of St. Louis was taking a party of visitors through his establishment. He had some very rare specimens of big game fish, both of the sea and river, besides a large collection of birds of every clime about the walls.

"Is that stuffed, too?" asked a lady, indicating the lifelike form of a small pet dog which sat motionless upon the hearth.

The taxidermist frowned and returned very indignantly:

"Madam, we do no stuffing here. We stretch our hides over plaster of paris forms. The day of stuffing is past, and no up to date establishment does it."

The party was taken upstairs, through the rooms where the real taxidermy is done. They had expected to see hides being crammed full of sawdust, shavings and perhaps hair. No such thing was seen, however, and in place of this were men and boys molding out the forms of deer, antelope, fish and other kinds of animals in the smooth white plaster. This is done very much in the same way as the terra cotta cornices are molded to grace the corners of buildings. The hides after going through the cleaning process are stretched tightly over the plaster form, which indeed is more lasting than the old fashioned manner of stuffing them.

"Even specimens of fish are treated in this manner," resumed the taxidermist, "and you may easily see how a skin would retain its shape a great deal longer over the hard, smooth surface of the plaster than if a softer material were crammed into it, which if improperly done will bulge and last but a short time."—Exchange.

Lincoln's Last Law Case.

Lincoln tried his last case in Chicago. It was the case of Jones versus Johnson in April and May, 1850, in the United States circuit court before Judge Drummond. The case involved the title to land of very great value the accretion on the shore of Lake Michigan. During the trial Judge Drummond and all the counsel on both sides, including Lincoln, dined together at the house of Isaac N. Arnold.

At the conclusion of the dinner this toast was proposed: "May Illinois furnish the next president of the United States." It was drunk with great enthusiasm by the friends of both Lincoln and Douglas. — Chicago Record-Herald.

Fatalism Exemplified.

She—I hope, dear, that you are not going to worry about my exceeding my allowance this time.

He (brightening up)—You don't mean to tell me, dearest, that there isn't any necessity for it?

"Certainly not. What's the use of worrying about something you can't help?"—New York Life.

RUSSIAN WOMAN HANGED.

Would Not Plead for Mercy of the Emperor.

Moscow, July 26.—With the observance of the greatest privacy Madame Fromkina, who in March last attempted to assassinate General Rheinbot, the ex-prefect of police, and who in May made an attempt to murder the inspector of the political prison here, wounding him with a pistol which had been mysteriously smuggled into her cell, was hanged in this city at Sunrise Thursday.

The authorities made every effort during the past fortnight to persuade the woman to plead for the mercy of the emperor, but this she obstinately refused to do.

Prostrations at Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., July 25.—While at his home, after several hours' work on the wharves, John H. Hughes, a native of Scotland, died from heat prostration Wednesday. Overcome by heat G. W. Moses, a carpenter, fell from a scaffolding and broke several ribs. A number of horses on the streets were overcome. The thermometer registered at its highest point 96 degrees, but the air was extremely close.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and ... record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional endorsement, as ... by numerous ... of ... in the various ... of ... practice. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful or habit forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

The general nature of the business to be conducted, transacted and engaged in by this corporation shall be to build, own and operate saw mills, dry kilns and their appurtenances, tram roads and logging plants; to buy, manufacture, sell or otherwise deal in lumber of all kinds, cross-ties, wood shingles and laths; to make and manufacture, buy, sell and deal in turpentine, rosin, naval stores, gum, tar, charcoal and other products and by-products from timber, pine trees, wood and stumps; to buy, operate, sell, own, build and operate retorts, machines and machinery, and other devices for the manufacture of turpentine, rosin, tar and other products from pine trees, wood and stumps; to own, run and operate stores, commissaries, etc.; to engage in the mercantile business; to purchase, own and hold land, timber and timber privileges, by deed, lease, timber permits and other form of contract, and to sell, lease, mortgage or otherwise dispose of the same; to acquire, own, hold, use, mortgage, lease, sell and convey property of all kinds, real, personal and mixed, including stocks and bonds; to loan money, to borrow money, and secure same by mortgage to secure debt, bond or other obligation therefor; to receive payment for the capital stock of the corporation in money or property at a just valuation to be fixed by the Board of Directors; to make contracts of all and every kind incident to and for the furtherance of its purposes and business, including contracts and debts between said corporation and individuals and other corporations; to make such by-laws as may be deemed best, and generally to exercise, enjoy all powers incident to the conduct and purposes of the said corporation, and to have, exercise and enjoy all rights, powers and privileges incident to corporations organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Florida.

Article III—The amount of capital stock of this corporation shall be One Hundred Thousand Dollars, divided into one thousand shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars each. The capital stock shall be subscribed for and ten per cent paid in before said corporation shall transact any business. All or any part of the capital stock of said corporation may be payable in or issued or used for the purchase of property, labor or service at a just valuation thereof, to be fixed by the Board of Directors at a meeting to be called for that purpose.

Article IV—This corporation shall continue, exist and have full power to exercise its corporate rights and franchise for the period of ninety-nine (99) years from the date of its corporate existence.

Article V—The business of said corporation shall be managed by a President, Vice-President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Board of Directors consisting of five (5) members. The office of Secretary and Treasurer may be held by the same person, and the Directors may be increased to not more than seven (7) if the by-laws so provide.

The annual meeting for the election of officers by the stockholders of the corporation shall be held on the first Tuesday in January of each and every year. The stockholders shall meet on the first Tuesday in January, A. D. 1908, for the first annual meeting of the corporation, in the City of Gainesville, Florida, and until the officers of said corporation are elected at the first regular meeting in January, A. POLICE ARREST SUSPECT.

Man Believed To Have Been Connected with Poisoning Case at Lima.

Muncie, Ind., July 26.—Sheriff Perdue, of Muncie, and Marshal Mitchell, of Eaton, Ind., Wednesday night arrested Arnold Crouse, alias Edward Graff, aged 23 years, and put him in jail as a suspect of complicity in the recent mysterious Speer poisoning case at Lima, Ohio.

Crouse was a boarder at the Speer home, and left after the detention of Mrs. Speer on suspicion of having poisoned her husband.

She was taken in charge at the cemetery where her husband was being buried. An analysis of his stomach has developed strychnine poison.

Crouse has been much sought after since then. He came to Selma, 6 miles east of Muncie, and was located after having called for mail under the alias. He left there and was tracked to Eaton, where his arrest occurred.

In searching the man at the police station, damaging evidence for the defense was found in a letter all ready to mail to Mrs. Speer.. It was addressed to "Sweetheart" and suggested that she leave Lima at once after selling her household goods and her late husband's property. The letter also directed Mrs. Speer to sell some oil property belonging to Crouse and meet him as soon as possible.

To Prove Cause of Disaster.

San Francisco, July 26.—Captain Bermingham, United States supervising inspector of hulls and boilers for this department, will soon begin an investigation of the sinking of the steamer Columbia by the steam vessel San Pedro, in which 77 lives are believed to have been lost. Captain Bermingham has instructed United States Customs Collector S. A. Campbell, at Eureka, to take the depositions of the captain and crew of the San Pedro, and summon the officers and crew of the Columbia to be in attendance.

Form a Combine.

Savannah, Ga., July 26.—There is said to be a strong probability of a combination of the Savannah, Augusta and Northern railway and the Brinson railway or the sale of the latter to the former. A representative of the owners of the Savannah, Augusta and Northern has been over the Brinson road on an inspecting tour and has arrived at Statesboro. If the road now building gets the Brinson road it is said it will not build into Savannah, but will use the tracks of the Brinson line.

To Enforce Sunday Closing.

Columbus, Ga., July 26.—At a meeting of the Law and Order League of Girard, Ala., Tuesday night a committee was appointed to notify merchants, butchers, etc., that unless the law as to Sunday closing was obeyed, the organization would promptly prosecute all offenders. In both the twin cities of Girard and Phenix City there is a vigorous campaign on just now to prevent the carrying on of business on Sunday.

Poet's Daughter Dies.

New York, July 26.—News from Paris of the death of Julia S. Bryant, who was the only surviving daughter of William Cullen Bryant, the poet, has been received in this city. She was 75 years old. In 1873 she went to France, where she has since lived. Miss Bryant was the owner of her father's birthplace at Cuttington, and maintained as a public memorial to his memory for years.

Secures His Pardon.

Raleigh, N. C., July 26—Charles Doan, a young man of Yancey county, has been pardoned by the governor. Two years ago Doan shot his brother in fun, causing a charge of powder and a gun wad to explode. The injury produced blood poison, resulting in death. Doan was convicted of manslaughter and was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary.

Robbed of $100.000.

New York, July 26.—A dispatch from Geneva, Switzerland, reports that an American by the name of Day, described as a wealthy Chicago financier, has been robbed of a pocketbook containing $100,000, chiefly in notes, while traveling on an express train from Munich to Lausanne.

Kaiser and King to Meet.

Berlin, July 26.—It is now certain that King Edward and the Kaiser will meet at Wilhelmshohen near Hesse castle, and that the meeting is set from August 11 to 16th. Kaiser William will return the visit in England during the first half of November, and will be accompanied by the empress.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

The Atlantic Coast Line Offering Some Attractive Rates.

The Jamestown Exposition, like all other expositions when they first open, has not the buildings all completed, nor all the exhibits in good shape. This exposition will be kept open, and by referring to the advertisement carried in this paper you will note attractive rates, and time limits to suit the vacations of anyone.

Realizing and appreciating that one day in the week, namely Tuesday, was the only day on which coach excursion tickets could be purchased, the Atlantic Coast Line has instructed all their ticket agents that the coach excursion rates will be in effect on Friday as well as Tuesday, thus making two days in the week that people who do not feel like going to the extra expense of buying sleeper berths, but want to take a trip off for an outing, can avail themselves of this very reduced rate, which is about one cent a mile for distance traveled or $14.05 for the round trip from Jacksonville, with correspondingly low rates from all other points.

The rate named above is a very low one and is one which a great many people are availing themselves of, taking advantage of the two days fixed for the coach excursion rates, one day at the first of the week and one day at the last of the week.

By consulting your nearest railroad agent he will quote you rates through, not only for the coach excursion, which is particularly referred to in this writing, but any additional limit of tickets.

If you cannot see the agent personally by dropping a card or letter to Frank C. Boylston, district passenger agent of the Atlantic Coast Line at Jacksonville, Florida, you will be furnished with rates direct, to any point desired, and to the exposition with any kind of a limit of ticket.

The Smile

That won't come off appears on baby's face after one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, the great worm medicine. Why not keep that smile on baby's face? If you keep this medicine on hand, you will never see anything else but smiles on his face. Mrs. S——, Blackwell, Okla., writes: "My baby was peevish and fretful. Would not eat and I feared he would die. I used a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he has not had a sick day since." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Heat Prostrations in Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., July 25.—Heat prostrations are being reported from several points in Alabama as a result of the unusually high temperature. At Tuscaloosa, James McGuire died from heat stroke. At Huntsville a fireman on an engine entering the city was overcome, and fell from the cab window, seriously injuring himself. A soldier was overcome during the review at Camp Tracy, W. Pratt, at Huntsville, where the Third Alabama regiment is in camp.

Collapsed at Prison Doors.

Stillwater, Minn., July 26—Unable to bear up under the prospect of eight years' imprisonment in the state penitentiary, Thomas B. Clement, former president of the First National bank of Faribault, convicted on eight counts, for misuse of funds, collapsed at the very doors of the prison Wednesday afternoon and was taken to the prison hospital in a state of nervous breakdown. His condition is regarded as critical.

Killed at Crossing

Acworth, Ga., July 26.—James Kemp, while driving a mule across one of the public crossings in Acworth, was run over by No. 93, a northbound passenger train, Wednesday morning at 10:30 and instantly killed. The mule which was being driven was also killed, both man and mule being knocked 5 feet.

Mose Sherman, the ever busy janitor at the court house, was busy yesterday mowing the lawn outside of the yard between the fence and the walk. Mose is always doing something that will add to the looks of the yard.

Mrs. J. B. Cutler will leave next week for Hendersonville, N. C., where she will spend the month of August. In September Mrs. Cutler expects to go to Asheville, and in the latter part of the month will be joined by her husband for a trip to the Jamestown Exposition and New York.

E. E. Voyle was surprised to find a large fox in his chicken coop last night. This is the first time a fox was ever known to come to town in search of food. He was not "foxy" enough, however, to get away from Mr. Voyle, who lost no time in putting the animal in another land.

Col. W. B. Sheppard, United States solicitor for the Northern District of Florida and a prominent candidate for the judgeship made vacant by the death of Judge Swayne, was in the city yesterday, the guest of Col. H. S. Chubb. Col. Sheppard made The Sun an agreeable call and we found him to be a pleasant, affable gentleman.

The grass plots around the city are looking green and pretty. There is, however, a large number of weeds coming up in the grass which should be pulled up at once. If a gang of men was put to pulling the weeds up before they go to seed it would not take long to get rid of them, while, if they are let remain, this time next year there will be many more much harder to get rid of.

M. P. Saunders is in receipt of a letter from Dr. Sydney L. Wrightson, president of the Washington College of Music, where Miss Alice Thomas is attending, in which he states that Miss Alice is doing fine in her studies and compliments her very highly. He says that she has a beautiful touch and great talent. Miss Alice's many friends in Gainesville will be glad to hear that she is doing so well.
